Special Considerations

Lessons are typically held Monday to Friday afternoons/ Mornings and Saturday Morning. Lessons times will be adjusted according to patron demands and may alter between the summer and winter months.

Swimming has been proven to assist in brain development and, for school-aged children, is regarded as vital for the development of academic performance, as well as coordination, motor skills, balance and concentration.

Children are advised to maintain and reinforce existing skills to advance and develop their ability all-year-round. Months of summer lessons end up "going to waste" as swimmers lose their "feel for the water" both physically and psychologically. Therefore we suggest swimming learns are a year-round activity to allow consistent reinforcement, particularly for infant, toddler and pre-school aged children when long-term skill retention and muscle memory are starting to develop.
